

Find your next great intern!

Post your internship offers for free.

The International Office at Brandenburg University of Applied Sciences will pre-select candidates for you in order to ensure that only students with the best profile are eligible for the internship.

Potential interns will receive customised intercultural and language training from the university.

Brandenburg University of Applied Sciences is based between the two major German cities Berlin and Magdeburg. The university consists of three departments: engineering, business and management, computer science and media. We offer hands-on experience in perfectly equipped labs, as well as a great quality of teaching in our officially accredited programmes. Students can complete their academic profile which consists of scientific projects and practical experience, with time spent abroad during their studies.

Brandenburg University of Applied Sciences seeks to cooperate with companies abroad in order to offer interesting international internships to our best students.

Is your company interested in cooperation or do you have any questions regarding a potential partnership? Feel free to contact us!
